ABOUT VAN MOER

The worldwide reference for quality professional workwear

Van Moer was founded in 1922 in Mechelen. Thanks to vision and hard work, Van Moer expanded into the Netherlands in 1998. Since then, Van Moer has established itself as the reference for workwear and corporate clothing in Western Europe. Today, Van Moer employs around one hundred people in Belgium and the Netherlands.

An office with everything under one roof

Our Belgian headquarters in Hulshout offers everything under one roof. In this 9,500 m² warehouse, we centralise sales and distribution to our customers. Do you need functional clothing with PPE (Personal Protective Equipment) or an Industry+, Cleanroom or Food collection? We discuss the fundamentals here at our headquarters. The styling, research & development of new samples and products for our tailor-made workwear also take place in Hulshout.

Not from our garment workshop, but from our many years of knowledge and presence in the healthcare market, we also provide clothing for hospitals (cure), healthcare institutions (care) and operating rooms with a powerful fit and appearance: from reception staff (hospitality) and hospital restaurants (food & catering) to maintenance staff and surgeons in the operating room. We also provide professionalism and comfort in the corporate and government sectors. Thanks to our in-depth knowledge, we know exactly which requirements and standards these garments must meet.

Your employees shine every day in the corporate clothing that we have designed together with you. This contributes entirely to your positive corporate image. We have an extensive product range and guide you towards the clothing collection that best suits your organisation. Together, we go for nothing less than Fitted to Perfection.

An extensive network of resources ensures that you will be amazed by our pioneering role. We ensure that your team combines sustainability with an attractive appearance and comfortable workwear. Discover all the strengths of our standard collections or of a unique concept based on your expectations.

We are proud of our more than 100 years of experience in producing corporate clothing and textiles for the healthcare sector is something we are proud of. We provide the perfect concept tailored to hospitals, operating rooms and healthcare institutions. Count on the best materials and consistent quality, with attention to the functional requirements of the job, the highest hygiene standards and the look & feel our customer wants

Healthcare staff, medical staff, maintenance staff, logistics staff, kitchen staff and technical service employees dedicate themselves every day with heart and soul to everyone who needs care. Our experts combine their many years of experience in product development and extensive knowledge of materials to ensure these employees wear their outfits with pride. We design clothing for Care, Cure and Operating Rooms (OR).

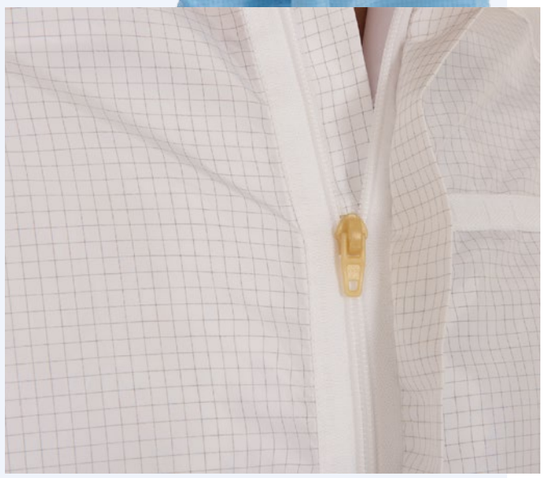
From spacious pockets in a nursing uniform and clean-air suits that comply with EN 13795, from the WIP guidelines to a carefully considered accent on a uniform that contributes to the warm atmosphere of a healthcare institution: our functional, comfortable and fashionable clothing range clearly demonstrates that it meets all customer requirements while also strengthening the visual identity of your healthcare institution.

Cleanroom

Van Moer develops cleanroom garments for employees who work every day in highly controlled and clean working environments. Think of laboratories and cleanrooms in the pharmaceutical industry, semiconductor industry, food industry and electronics companies.

Thanks to our many years of expertise, we develop technically advanced cleanroom garments tailored to your requirements regarding contamination control, sterilisability and electrostatic discharge. Our garments combine high-performance ESD materials with innovative solutions such as 100% non-metallic PA6 zippers, designed for long-term performance under intensive industrial laundering, steam sterilisation and gamma irradiation.

Comfort, safety and performance form the foundation of every design. With ergonomic fits, durable materials and technically engineered constructions, we create cleanroom garments that protect, last longer and give your organisation a professional appearance.



Government

Public services deserve corporate workwear that inspires confidence. We develop representative uniforms and workwear for cities and municipalities, utility companies and other government organisations. Functionality, recognisability and comfort go hand in hand, with designs that match your corporate identity and daily work in the field.

From front desk employees to technical services: every role has specific requirements regarding visibility, safety and durability. With industrially washable materials, smart fits and carefully considered finishing, we create a uniform appearance that lasts and strengthens the image of your organisation. SUSTAINABILITY

Sustainability at Van Moer

By staying close to the (end) customer from the very beginning, communicating transparently and drawing on our experience, we develop a solid advisory process. This helps us achieve everyone's socially responsible objectives. We translate our most important sustainability pillars step by step into a better world for people, the environment and business operations.

Thanks to close and long-term partnerships with laundries, customers and suppliers, we have been reducing our impact on the environment and society for many years. As a member of the BSCI (Business Social Compliance Initiative), Van Moer, together with its garment workshops, is fully committed to improving working conditions worldwide.

Local garment workshops

In Tunisia, Slovakia, Kosovo and Pakistan, local garment workshops work as our Van Moer colleagues. They are responsible for producing clothing collections that match their sector-specific expertise. The complete picture: a combination of customer-specific service, a personal approach, transparent communication and a high degree of flexibility.

We have maintained strong relationships with these garment workshops for more than 20 years. At Van Moer, we attach great importance to building long-term partnerships with our garment workshops. We are fully committed to regular consultations and working visits. In this way, we guarantee the high expectations of our customers and deliver finished garments tailored to the customer's wishes.

The steps to success in sustainability

Thanks to close and long-term partnerships with laundries, customers and suppliers, we have also been reducing our impact on the environment and society for many years. As a member of the BSCI (Business Social Compliance Initiative), Van Moer, together with its garment workshops, is fully committed to improving working conditions worldwide. Sustainability is both our standard and an ongoing process that we continue to improve. Just ask our CSR Manager.

Sustainable organisation

We are building a complete ecosystem. We make sustainability visible and measurable through ISO 14001, our ESG approach and EcoVadis.

Sustainable design

Every design is developed to remain in its first life cycle for as long as possible. Every step is documented and traceable down to the smallest detail.

Sustainable raw materials

We select fabrics and materials from European suppliers that comply with strict environmental standards. Every fabric is tested for durability, safety and impact. Our main suppliers comply with OEKO-TEX® STeP and sign our strict Van Moer Code of Conduct.

Sustainable production

We produce on demand, with minimal waste streams. People and the environment go hand in hand with efficiency and quality throughout our production process.
We work with fixed partners in Eastern Europe and North Africa, workshops that are BSCI-audited and comply with the highest standards for working conditions, quality and transparency.

Sustainable transport

Through combined inbound and outbound transport, smart groupage and minimal packaging, we make optimum use of every loading space. This minimises empty kilometres and reduces our CO_2 emissions.

Sustainable reuse

We are proud of our circular fabric. When garments reach the end of their first life cycle, we strive to give them the most valuable second destination through reuse, fibre recycling or application in furniture and new textile products.
